Thoughtfully Designed For Calm

The RoccoShield Rocking Chair helps create a softer, more welcoming environment. Designed for the realities of mental health and complex care, it combines a durable fluid-resistant finish with sensory detailing in the armrests. The result is a chair that feels more inviting, while also offering clear value in daily practice.

Sensory Support

Both armrests of the RoccoShield Rocking Chair are designed with a ribbed texture. This considered sensory detail can provide a pleasant tactile stimulus, helping to promote calm and comfort.

Disclaimer: RoccoShield is designed for durability but is not indestructible. It complements, not replaces, the need for supervision and care.
